NATIONAL CONVENTION.

It is proposed in some quarters to refer the differences between the North and South on the question of constitutional amendment, to a national convention of all the States. This proposition has been received with favor by some leading Democratic papers, which have, rather hastily, we think, endorsed the movement. While we have little fear of such a convention, we confess that we would prefer to wait for further indications from the North, and know more certainly the character of the representatives that a section could send to it, before we give it our unqualified approval. As the congressional representation on new grounds, the radicals won't have a small majority in the convention. That would doubtless be held in check by the superior statesmanship and ability of the conservatives. It is more than probable, also, from the indications of the waning strength of the torch-and-turpentine party, afforded by the late elections, that the complexion of the convention would be in our favor. But in a matter of such great importance it is best to be certain. We don't want any changes in the constitution, but we would not object to going into a convention for that purpose, in the hope of doing some good—putting some positive constitutional interdict upon radical fanaticism—provided conservatism is not to be in such a hopeless minority as to render the whole affair a mere mockery.

There are other questions besides that of suffrage which we would like to see settled by the proposed convention. The capacity of the negro to hold office—the national bank system—paper currency—the inequality of taxation—the tariff by which the government plunders the whole country to enrich New England with the spoils—in fact, we would like to see every sectional question definitely set at rest, for until that is done there will be no peace with the mercenary demagogues who lead the radical cohorts. A one-idea convention would not reach the bottom of the trouble—it could only pour oil upon the surface, and leave it to be agitated anew by the next breath of rampant fanaticism.

Quite a number of distinguished gentlemen in different sections of the State are being put forward by their friends as candidates for nomination to the various State offices to be filled at the next election. Undoubtedly whoever may be nominated by the February convention will be elected; and for that very reason the best men of the party should be put on the track. When a contest is hopeless, it matters little who is put forward to be beaten; but fortunately in the present instance nomination is equivalent to election, and the convention in choosing candidates will be simply choosing the State officers for the people.

Under these circumstances, the recommendation of the central committee, that we have a representative convention, strikes us as particularly wise and proper. Let the popular voice rule in the convention—let the ablest and staunchest conservatives be nominated, without regard to past affiliations. Harmony and unanimity will then characterize the actions of the party, and it will march in solid phalanx to the support of leaders to whose integrity and ability the people can trust the honors and duties of public office.

Old Bailey thinks we are in favor of another war. Like the rest of his party, he pronounces every one a traitor who dares to make a wry face while having the radical hog, bristles and all, thrust down his throat at the point of the bayonet. Such clap-trap is both pitiful and pitiable.

The old fellow wants us to blow our brains out, for the sake of the funeral houses that would probably follow. We have the advantage of him there, as he has no brains to blow out! Besides, posthumous sympathy is not exactly in our line; but it is the only kind the radicals even pretend for anything that is respectable.

The call of the State central committee, summoning the Democratic State convention to meet in Frankfort on the 22nd of February next, will be found on our first page. There was at first some dispute as to the proper time for the meeting of that body, but the day selected by the committee seems to meet the general approval of the party.

The radicals are worse than the dog in the manger. The South wanted to go out of the Union, and they wouldn't let her; now she wants to stay in the Union, and they won't let her. Their political creed is the alphabet of contraries, in which there is no let her be.

A committee of the Legislature is visiting various sections of the State with a view to finding a suitable location to which the capital can be removed, Frankfort having fallen into bad odor.

The Frankfort Commonwealth says that President Johnson's "better judgment has got control of his judgment." Quite likely!

We have sometimes compared the radical party to a hog. We beg pardon of the hog.

New York, Nov. 25.—The Herald's Mexico correspondent shows that the Mexican muddle is still more complicated.

Maximilian is still at Orizaba, and in the French circles is reported to be insane. The adherents of Maximilian deny this statement, saying that he attended to business at Orizaba as usual.

The conservative party is anxious for his return to the capital, and his throne, pledging a large fund for his purposes, but he has stubbornly refused to comply.

New York, Nov. 26.—The World's New Orleans special says Maximilian has taken the decisive step of abdication. The rupture between himself and the French Government, being complete, he has left Mexico in the hands of Bazaine and Castelnau, the latter of whom is understood to have full authority from Napoleon to supersede the Marshal himself, if necessary. The late Emperor left Vera Cruz on Thursday, and may be expected at Havana, on his way to Europe, on Monday or Tuesday next.

New Orleans, Nov. 15.—The supreme court of Mississippi decided that the State never lost its organization as a government by reason of secession or war, but that it was in all respects not only de facto but de jure a State, and that the functions of government were rightly and constitutionally exercised by those who exercised executive, legislative, and judicial functions during that time within the State.

Judge J. Shalvey, of Miss., also decided that sales and executory contracts made before the surrender and founded upon Confederate Treasury notes, as a consideration, were valid and can be enforced now.

These cases go to the supreme court for final adjudication.

Since the recent additions made to Jeff. Davis' quarters in Carroll Hall, and the removal of Mrs. Davis and her sister to the rooms prepared for them, he has become remarkably cheerful. His health is much improved of late and he is said to speak very confidentially of being released. Relatives and friends from all parts of the South are constantly arriving, entering the fort at pleasure, and departing almost unobserved. The Adams Express Company are in daily receipt of packages and presents for Mr. Davis, furnished by his sympathizers.

The Cincinnati Enquirer publishes a communication from the Sixth district urging the claims of Major J. R. Hallam, of Newport, for the nomination for Attorney General on the Democratic ticket, and gives the suggestion its hearty indorsement. Major Hallam deserves all that is said in his praise. The success of the Democracy in Campbell and Kenton counties, as well as the balance of the district, is largely due to his bold and untiring exertions last year and this year.

London, Nov. 23.—J. H. Surratt, the alleged accomplice in the murder of President Lincoln, was discovered serving in this papal service under the name of John Watson. He was arrested upon a demand of General King, but afterwards ran the guard, leaped over a precipice and escaped into Italian territory. The Italian authorities are on the alert and endeavoring to recapture him.

A family has been discovered in Chicago in a starving condition, and the wife and mother claims to be a sister of John Morrissey, Congressman elect from New York, to whom she says she has applied for aid. Morrissey sent her two hundred and fifty dollars immediately upon hearing of her situation.

Pen and Scissors.

Gen. Sheridan has ordered additional troops to the Rio Grande.

Russia has finally annexed the territory of Tashkend, in Central Asia, to the empire.

A St. Petersburg telegram says the rumored alliance between Russia and Prussia is totally unfounded.

During the past year the postal service in the eleven seceded States has paid for itself and netted $291,000 profit.

The United States government has instructed its consul to appeal for a new trial for the condemned Fenian prisoners.

The President will indorse, in his message, a plan submitted by the secretary of the treasury for a return to specie payment.

London, Nov. 24.—Noon.—The Fenian agitation in Ireland still continues. Many arrests of persons and seizures of arms have been made.

There is a man in Colorado so thin, that when the sheriff's attendants crawl into his ride, and watch his adversary through the touchhole.

The daily sales of cotton in Louisville are largely attended. Cotton is, however, rather dull at present, owing to the decline in prices in the East.

The Jews of Louisville have purchased a fine large lot on the corner of Broadway, upon which they are going to build a magnificent synagogue.

Hon. E. M. Bruce has agreed to furnish the rolling stock, provided the counties along the route will build the railroad between Paris and Maysville.

Col. Wm. T. Dudley, for 30 years past Clerk of the Fleming County Court, has become deranged and has been sent to the Lunatic Asylum in Lexington.

Henry S. Jefferson, Sheriff of Mason county, died a few days ago of cholera. He contracted the disease, during a visit via Cincinnati and Louisville, to Frankfort.

Paris, Nov. 23.—A popular outbreak against the government of Spain is liable to occur at any moment. There are rumors that the queen will abdicate to avert the threatened storm.

The fine trotting stallion Abdallah of Fleming county, passed through Maysville on Sunday last, en route to Ohio, having been sold by its owner, Mr. Will F. Bishop, of Cincinnati, for $2,800.

The two houses of the Alabama legislature met in joint session on Wednesday, and on the 10th inst. elected ex-governor Winston as United States senator for the long term, beginning on the 4th of March next.

The editor who wrote his editorials with stolen chalk on the sole of his shoes, and went barefooted while the boys set up the copy, has purchased a ream of second-hand envelopes, and engaged a girl to turn them inside-out.

A new and fatal disease has appeared among the hogs in Fleming county, Ky. Mr. D. Johnson has lost 148 by what he calls diptheria. On examination a thick yellow substance is found to have accumulated in the throat, while other parts of the body appear to be perfectly sound.

The General Assembly of Kentucky will re-assemble at Frankfort, pursuant to adjournment, on the 3d day of January, 1867. The most important business to be transacted will be the selection of a United States Senator in place of Hon. Garrett Davis, whose term expires on the 4th of March next.

Maj. Hibler reports the McKee estate sales in Scott county, as follows: 120 two-year-old mules sold at $155 per head; work mules at $200 to $265; two-year-old cattle at $6.16 per 100 pounds; fat hogs at $6.25 and $6.00; and sheep at $7. The farm of 560 acres of extra land, near Newtown, bid only $100, and of course was not sold.

INFORMATION WANTED.—Private W. C. Williams, of the 1st Regt., 6th S. Army, was left sick at Crab Orchard on Bragg's retreat from Kentucky. He was at the house of George James when last heard from. Any information of his fate will be gratefully received by his distressed mother. Address Mrs. Jane D. Moore, Greenville, Merriweather county, Ga.

HOME AGAIN.—After a prolonged absence, first in the Southern Confederacy and then in Europe, Col. Blanton Duncan arrived at his old home in Louisville a few days since. The colonel is looking as robust and good-natured and as handsome as ever, albeit a grayish tinge to his locks gives evidence that he is a little older than he used to be.—Lou. Cour. 24th.

From returns published, it appears that a total of 61,062,240 pounds of tobacco were raised in Kentucky during the past twelve months. Of this, 976,956 pounds were raised by free negroes. During the year 37,373 hogheads were sold in Louisville. Averaging the weight of each hoghead at 1,400 pounds, it shows that there has been sold in that market 32,322,500 pounds, against 61,062,240 pounds raised in the State, or over one-half the entire product.

We are glad to notice that new brick sidewalks have been laid in several localities on Main street. They are an improvement to the property in front of which they are placed, and a great convenience to pedestrians.

There were 54 arrivals at the Rankin House on Tuesday, exclusive of the breakfast passengers by the railroad. Pretty good for a country town. Our little city is the active centre of trade for a busy and wealthy portion of the State.

At Mrs. Frazer's sale last week, W. B. Glave, auctioneer, hogs brought over 6 cents; one saddle horse $200; other stock sold well.

At Stephen Anderson's sale, same auctioneer, hogs sold for 54 cents, and other stock went at low figures.

Sales of confiscated whisky are becoming very frequent in this State. The trade of "informers" is getting to be quite profitable. So frequent are the detections, that one would think the risk sufficiently great to deter almost any one from endeavoring to cheat the law.

Two negro women indulged in a pugilistic encounter on Main street, the other day. The battle drew a crowd of spectators, and the combatants pitched into each other manfully. After the fight the bystanders gathered from the spot some 40 lbs. of wool, more or less—particularly less.

Last Summer Paul King, of this county, put in a field of turnips according to his favorite receipt—that is, he sowed them early on the morning of the first Monday in August, and then came to town and voted the straight Democratic ticket. The result was a magnificent yield. He brought in a wagon load the other day, and four taken at random from the pile—about an average of the lot.

The "Fat Contributor" will lecture in the Court-House this (Thursday) evening. Those who fail to attend will miss the richest treat of the season.

A protracted meeting has been going on in the M. E. church South, in this city, for the past week, in which considerable interest is manifested. A number of "additions" have been made to the professing congregation, and the good work is still progressing. The meeting will be continued till the close of the week, and longer if found desirable.

Aleck Williamson, of this county, planted three Neshannock potatoes last Summer, from which he has just dug twenty-four bushels of fine potatoes—two samples of the crop measuring respectively 10 1/2 and 11 1/2 inches in length. Information has been sent to Head Centre Stephens, who is expected to colonize his Penitents in this vicinity immediately.

If our readers observe any improvement in this issue of the News, they must attribute it to the fact that the editor is absent on a trip to the North. He promised the devil to write a letter back for the paper, but the following is all that has been received from him since he left:

Be a good boy. Good (hic) bye.

P. S. I have got a new (hic) subscriber to the News. How are you (hic) News?

Large numbers of hogs have been going through this city on their way to market, for several days past. Many sales have been made here, while some owners prefer to go on with their stock, and sell at headquarters. The scene around the stock-depot is both lively and musical.

It is estimated that over 4,000 hogs have been shipped from this point since last Thursday—about 2,500 of which have been weighed on Bob Rankin's scales. Mr. Rankin reports the average quality better than usual; a number weighed over 500 pounds, and some seven or eight over 600 pounds. One lot of 30 head, one year old, raised and fed by F. G. Veach, averaged 371 pounds. There were many lots averaging from 360 to 400 pounds.

The railroad is also conveying large numbers of the porcine product from other points, and heavy trains, constantly busy, are scarcely adequate to the demand for transportation.

CONFISCATED WHISKY.—About fourteen months ago a firm of distillers in Harrison county, Ky., Messrs. Dixon & Pepper bribed the Inspector Sparks to place his brand on fourteen barrels of whisky upon which they had not paid the Government tax. The sum paid to Sparks was $20. The whisky was then smuggled to Maysville and there attempted to be sold, but in this the owners failed. The whisky was left with Perry Thomas to sell on commission. Having no suspicion that the law had not been complied with as the owners showed him receipts for other whisky on which they had paid the tax, Mr. Thomas advanced them $1,230, all of which he will probably lose. W. S. Rankin, Assessor of the Sixth District at the time, traced the whisky to Maysville, and had it seized according to all the legal proceedings. The case was tried in the United States District Court at the late October term, and the whisky was adjudged to be forfeited, and an order for its confiscation and sale was made. Thursday the Deputy United States Marshal, J. S. Satterwhite, sold the lot of 687 1/2 gallons to A. D. Richardson, for $3.10 per gallon, the proceeds amounting to $2,130 50. Of this amount Mr. Rankin receives one-half as the informer.—Maysville Eagle, 17th.

CINCINNATI, Nov. 21. This morning a woman named Fanny Harris died in the station house. The coroner held an inquest, the verdict of the jury being that she died from congestion of the brain. Mrs. Harris was, at one time, a prominent woman in Kentucky and the sister of a late Governor of that State. She fell from grace, became a drunkard, and finally ended her days in the city prison.

CHANGE.—We learn that the resignation of John Jay Anderson Collector of the 9th District of Kentucky, has been accepted. Dr. John M. Duke, of Maysville, is his successor.—Mt. Sterling Sentinel.

Alex. Warren was acquitted, in the Mercer Circuit Court last week, for killing Ben C. Blinn, of Lexington.

The New Haven Courier mentions a most brutal case of rape on Friday evening, on the person of a woman residing in that city, apparently about 60 years of age. She states that she called at a saloon and took a glass of beer, and that when she went out she was followed by three men, who forced her to go with them over Barnesville bridge, where they in turn violated her person. One of the parties, Michael Donahue, has been arrested.

The heavy tax on whisky has created an entirely new business, that is, the distillation of burning fluid instead of its manufacture. The process is to mix about ten per cent. of turpentine with the mash, which makes it burning fluid. Subsequently the turpentine is removed by a chemical process which leaves an inferior quality of merchantable whisky. It is doubtful whether under the law as it stands any penalty applies to this operation.

On Monday morning last, Mr. Joseph Crosthwaite, son of Mr. Wm. Crosthwaite, of Bourbon, shot and killed by the name of Will, in the employ of his father, causing his death a few hours. The difficulty arose about his going to work, when the boy attacked Mr. C. with a case knife. A coroner's inquest was held the next day, and the jury rendered a verdict that Mr. C. acted in self-defense.

DREADFUL ACCIDENT.—It is with feelings of the deepest regret, that we announce the terrible accident which deprived George W. Patton, son of Judge Joseph Patton, of his life. He was in the engine room of the flouring mill at work, when a piece of the engine flew out and mangled him in a horrible manner. He was about fifteen years of age.—Cynthiana Herald.

The thirty-sixth anniversary of the Louisville Journal was celebrated by a banquet at the International Saloon on Saturday evening. The banquet was prepared by Pargny, and was an elegant affair. The Senior of the Journal presided. Wit, eloquence, and good feeling prevailed, and everything passed off to the great pleasure of all present.

CINCINNATI HOG MARKET.

The receipts, as shown by the books of the Merchants' Exchange, were 10,600 head; a portion of these, however arrived Sunday evening, and the actual receipts for the past twenty-four hours did not exceed 6,000 head. The arrivals were considerably in excess of what was expected, and the weather being very unfavorable, the market opened heavy, and ruled so throughout the day. Prices are 25 to 50 per cent lower, and dull at the decline. At the close, 4-5c to 5-10c gross, were the outside rates obtained, and one or two sales were made this afternoon at 5-4-5c for hogs averaging 310 pounds. Some light hogs, averaging 200 pounds gross, sold as low as 5-4c. There were, also, some transactions in dressed hogs at 7c, net, for those weighing 225 to 240 pounds, and 6-4c for light averages. The bulk of the hogs now coming forward are from Kentucky.

Total receipts since Nov. 1st, 70,263 head; from Kentucky, 37,896 head.—Cincinnati Enquirer, 28th.

"UNKNOWN."

Out on the battle-field, dead, dead,
Rested a brave dragoon;
Low in the dust lay his crested head
Since yesterday at noon.

Down on the battle-field, fair, fair,
Looketh the white-faced moon,
Near all night long on the matted hair
Of the pallid-faced dragoon.

Near to the battle-field, sigh, sigh,
On to the far-off sea,
Near last night's moon had climbed the sky,
The soldier knelt by thee.

And prayed that God, in Omnipotent will,
Would shield him in the fight;
But God knew best—and his lips are still,
And his heart is cold to-night.

Far from the battle-field, weep, weep, weep,
Ye who loved him long,
Never again to wake from sleep,
Silent the dead among.

Bend o'er the battle-field, Angels bend,
Hope in your quiet eyes;
Peace to the mourner, oh Saviour, send,
Peace ere the mourner dies.

As ye passed on again the moon
Looked down from the quiet sky,
But rested not on the brave dragoon,
As once in days gone by.

No upturned face, no matted hair,
Nor a fallen form to see;
But the river shining over there
Rolled on to the far-off sea.

A grave upon its margin green
Is marked by a single stone,
On which the pensive, white-faced queen
Lights up the word "Unknown."

Unknown, unknown, unknown, unknown!
Ere the wane of last year's moon,
An angel pen had written down
The name of the bold dragoon!

OVER THE WAY.

Gone, in her child-like purity,
Out from the golden day;
Fading away in the light so sweet,
To that glorious city with golden streets.

Where the silver stars and the sunbeams meet
Over the silent way,
Over the bosom tenderly
The pearl-white hands are pressed;

Ties lashes lie on her cheek so thin,
Where the softest blush of the rose hath been,
Shutting the blue of her eyes within
The pure lids closed to rest.

Over the sweet brow lovingly
Twined her sunny hair,
She was so fragile that love sent down,
Of his heavenly gems, that soft bright crown.

To shade her brow with its waves so brown,
Light as the rippling air,
Gone to sleep with the tender smile
Froze on her silent lips.

By the farewell kiss of her dewy breath
Cold in the clasp of the angel of death,
Like the last fair bud of a faded wreath
Whose bloom the white frost nips.

LITTLE GRAVES.

There's many an empty cradle,
There's many a vacant bed,
There's many a lonely bosom
Whose joy and light have fled;

For thick in every graveyard
The little hillocks lie,
And every hillock represents
AN ANGEL IN THE SKY!
